With over $300 million in government funds annually, critics of Planned Parenthood are seeking to diminish its influence and public funding. Click here to read the full story.